"Whatever you do, don't talk to strangers!" Parents always 46 us to stay away from strangers, and that was good advice when we were in elementary school. But we're 47 now. There's no denying that strangers can be dangerous, but it's also 48 that they can become friends. Your future husband or wife would be a complete stranger to you forever if you don't meet and socialize with him or her at some social occasion. 49, if you want to meet that ideal person, you have to overcome the fear of strangers and change the way you behave towards them. You will have the greatest chance of meeting your love at a party full of strangers. For the purposes of finding someone who is your type, the perfect party would be the one 50 no one knows anyone else.
